Falmouth Police make arrests in burglary cases

The Falmouth Police Department arrested and charged five suspects for their part in a burglary that occurred April 17 at Midwest Gas on Robbins Avenue in Falmouth.

According to Falmouth Police Chief Mark Posey thieves kicked in the door to the office and stole items from inside the building. They also broke into the trucks parked outside, stealing copper wire and other miscellaneous items.

This was the second break-in of the week for that area as Southern Elementary was burglarized on April 12. A thief broke a window in the rear of the school to gain entry and stole a microwave as well as some food items. The merchandise was later recovered in an outbuilding on the fairgrounds.

Members of the Falmouth Police Department and other volunteers got together and staked out the area where the burglaries had been occurring April 19 hoping to catch the alleged thieves in action. Police were able to make a traffic stop on a suspicious vehicle leaving Riverside Cemetery. The five individuals in the car were taken in for questioning and police obtained confessions about the break-ins.

The following were arrested: Christopher Powell, 26, Falmouth, burglary, 3rd degree - two counts; criminal mischief, 3rd degree - two counts; theft by unlawful taking (TBUT) less than $500; TBUT over $500 but less than $10,000. Powell is suspected to be the individual who broke into Southern Elementary. It is believed he had been staying on the river in the area where the crimes took place.

Jeremy Powell, 18, Falmouth, disorderly conduct, 2nd degree; resisting arrest; burglary, 3rd degree; TBUT over $500 but less than $10,000; criminal mischief, 3rd degree.

Anthony Higgins, 19, Falmouth, burglary, 3rd degree; criminal mischief, 3rd degree; TBUT over $500 but less than $10,000.

A father's love displayed through a dedicated work of granite and steel

By: Karen Hyden, reporter

In the Riverside Cemetery in Falmouth is a beautiful display of a father's devotion. A large stone cross lays over Adam Bruin's grave. A hand carved tribute of love from Mike Bruin to his son.

On April 28, 2012, the 19-year-old young man took his own life. As hard as it is to lose a child, it's made even harder when they leave so many unanswered questions.

"Adam had a hard time of it," explained his father with tear-filled eyes. Mike knew he wanted to do something special for Adam, but he couldn't get it clear in his mind just what.

One day when he was taking some angle metal to Bill Jolley, Mike saw some granite at his place and LOVE Page 3

Pictured above: Mike Bruin takes a silent moment beside his son's grave. The cross covering over the grave was a devoted work from a father in memory of his son. The headstone with the angel watching over Adam was custom ordered and shipped in from China. The grave site is located in Riverside Cemetery in Falmouth.

Then one morning as he was passing by the gate of the cemetery, he got the answer he'd been waiting for.

"It was as if Adam told me," Mike spoke softly. "It just popped in my mind to make a cross. Adam loved crosses." At home, Mike began drawing up ideas. From the beginning, he felt as if Adam were leading him.

When Mike began to plan on his project, he was a couple of months gathering the material he needed. The actual construction took a year and a month. Throughout the project he had a number of helping hands, most special to him was his younger son, Kevin and his right-hand concrete pourer, Susie Beagle.

"I had never done any type of rock work at all," said Mike. "I asked Bill Jolley about cutting the granite."

"I couldn't cut all the way through, I had to cut from both sides and used wedges to finish the work." He used a concrete saw with a good diamond blade.

"The grave is 4x10, so I used a 4x8 piece of plywood to precut the pattern for the outside perimeter and the cross.

"I took the plywood to my brother Jimmy's and placed the black granite border on it. Then I cut the cross out and put a stainless steel rod through the crossbar to hold the cross in place."

for trim came from Peoples Funeral Home. It was a headstone with a misprint on it that they were unable to use. Mike cut it into pieces and turned the unmarked sides upward. A 1/2" space was left between pieces of granite for the grouting.

At the grave site, a 4x8 concrete slab was poured and 1 1/2" of sand was used for a base. The cross was carried to the cemetery on a trailer and a Bobcat was used to lay the cross in place at the grave.

Around the cross Mike placed cobblestones he'd found in Walton while on a bike ride with JR Hyden. The two had loaded up their saddlebags with what they could carry and a second trip was made in order to collect the 75 needed for the job.

"I picked through the stones to see which ones would fit. About every other stone had to be cut," explained Mike. "I wanted a rough cut look to the stones, so I used a chipping hammer to rough up where they had been cut. It was like working a puzzle when putting them in place.

"Porcelain sand was poured in between the stones which hardened and locked the stonework together."

Then came the grout work. Another friend, Woody Morgan helped with that. The stainless steel trim around the outside of the stonework was postponed steel and welded it into place. The steel was prefabricated on the pad and set to overlap the concrete pad so it wouldn't move if hit with a lawn mower. At last the final welding and grinding was completed.

"I got a lot of on the job training with this," stated Mike. "There were many people helping me such as Bro. Joe Hall and those who provided me with the stainless steel and other materials. I appreciate everything anyone did to help me.

"There had to be something from above helping for it to come out as good as it did.

"I felt Adam with me the whole time. This was just something I had to do."

Perhaps the words etched on the base of the headstone were true for Mike in his endeavor to give his son one final gift. They read, "Your love will light my way. Your memory will ever be with me."

Bruin family shares day of fellowship

Members of the Bruin family had a blessed day of love and sharing on Sunday, April 13, 2014. There were 37 people that gathered for the occasion. Many of them were kids who touch the hearts of the family members and make their lives extra special! Everyone had lots of fun and enjoyed a delicious meal together. Although the family would've loved to have had everyone pictured in the photo above, some had already left by the time it was taken. How many of the family members can you identify?

NHS Easter Egg Hunt a huge success

Students from the National Honors Society hosted a community-wide Easter Egg Hunt for children of all ages on April 12, 2014 at the fair grounds in front of Southern Elementary. Over 70 children attended the event and made the egg hunt a substantial success. Student members from Pendleton County High School supervised and helped children and parents alike to make the hunt fun and enjoyable for all who attended. Prizes were also given out to three lucky children who found the most eggs in their age group. Over all, the egg hunt was a hit for children and parents to enjoy some sunshine after a long winter and a chance to get free candy for the kids. NHS would like to thank the Pendleton County Recreational Committee for egg donations and parents of the community for participating in the egg hunt, to make it the success that it was. OPINION

"I have never been hurt by what I have not said."
~ Calvin Coolidge

Pot: What's the problem?

Janice and I had gone to the layout of Esther Moreland and had sat down as I cannot stand for a long period due to my back. I saw April Moreland who worked for the Pendleton County Schools when I was superintendent. We were reminiscing when a gentleman, whom I had seen several times but to whom I had never had been introduced, stopped to chat.

"I enjoy reading your column," he said, "but I don't always agree with you, most of the time I do, but not always."

I came back with my stock answer, "That's okay, because I don't always agree with what I write."

Janice chimed in, "I told him that he is going to get us blown up, if he continues to speak out on controversial issues."

And, my friend, who is closely connected to a magistrate in our county said, "But he speaks the truth; let him write, for it is an honor to get blown up for speaking the truth."

I had been struggling with the topic above, so I concluded by saying, "Thank you, for making my day!"

Many of us have seen pictures of the pot party in Denver. Pictures that depict huge crowds puffing and blowing smoke, acting like fifth graders who are taunting classmates by sticking their tongues out sideways or crossing their eyes to indicate idiocy. One young man, inhales deeply, then shakes his head like my dog as she emerges from a pond; his eyes rolling back in his head. Several make gestures that are tantamount to flipping off us older generation.

So what's my problem with pot? Not much, then a whole lot too! It apparently relieves tension and anxiety without becoming addictive. I question that but let's go on. It makes one feel good and goofy. Lots of inane giggles. It can relieve the symptoms of certain diseases. Ah, there's the rub, for it is being used by the powers that be to get their foot in the door to making pot legal. That's when we will see replicas of Denver in Louisville and Lexington and Pikeville. Wholesale pot parties! A dulled sense of right and wrong! Drug lords and gangs to enforce the law of the jungle. Addicts! Car crashes! Broken families! A dumbing down of a generation! I could go on!

Unless I miss my guess we are headed in the direction of the Netherlands where drugs are legal and decriminalized. Where one can go to a set aside park and shoot up or puff away and no police will bother, where people die daily with glassy eyes. Victims of their weakness and false information about drugs. I hope I miss my guess!

I had written the above before going to Rotary, and was kind of down because the subject is depressing as we would simply be adding to the problems of our youth by legalizing pot. I have two first cousins who lie in the Jackson Cemetery under the age of 21 who were shot down when Breathitt County was "wet." "Don't Take Your Guns to Town..." But, I got a lift from our speaker who updated us on the recent action taken by our Legislature.

I asked him, "What's the probability that Kentucky will follow the example of Colorado and Washington State in legalizing pot?"

"Not much," he replied. "Hemp, yes, but not marijuana! Hemp is used industrially for fiber, seeds and oil. They come from the same species of plant but have far different chemical content. Currently we have research grants at our universities that are studying ways to distinguish the two."

I read recently where Kentucky was the third most backward state on social issues. I am glad we are...on the legalization of pot!

P.S. A newscast just reported that four ten-year-olds are being disciplined by Greeley Public School in Denver for bringing marijuana-laced candy bars to school. Where did they get them? From their grandparents.

"Breast Feeding"

For our modern generation who may not be familiar, breast feeding, is to feed an infant from the mother's breast rather than from a bottle. Our current society has somehow forgotten that breast feeding is not new. It is a very natural process of all mammals.

Every mammal is born with a natural instinct to suckle when hungry whether one is talking about a horse, calf, goat, mouse, dog, cat, or human. Nothing is shameful or secret. It's sort of like Solomon, one of the wisest men in history said in the Bible, "Nothing is new under the sun, what has been done, has been done before."

Our legislators "Make much to do about nothing" when they attempt to make rules and regulations on how a breast feeding mother conducts herself. Many mothers try to gain attention by thinking they are doing something special by feeding the child in the natural way.

I was a bit taken back a few months ago when I viewed a TV clip showing a mother who was also a member of our U.S. Army.

She was standing by a stool dressed in her uniform letting her six-year-old child mount the stool and nurse. She was smiling in approval. Now, I think this goes a bit too far.

Motherhood is one of the most cherished and honored God given positions, but it should not be used to gain selfish attention. If one wants to be a breast feeding mother, she should go for it, but if used only to draw attention to self, choose the bottle.

I can recall going to church during the 1950s as a lad of six years old. Breast feeding was the method of feeding, because plastic bottles, formula and money was not available.

When a child became hungry and unruly the mother would throw a small blanket over the child and all that could be heard was the infant's lips smacking. When the child finished, he became calm and drifted off to sleep.

I also remember, as a child became older, the mother would begin the weaning process. To assist in this procedure, many mothers would use a "sugar tit," to calm the stressed child.

A "sugar tit" is either an old sock or a piece of cloth containing sugar. When the child became upset, the mother would let the child suck the sweet fabric.

As a young teenager, I witnessed a very humorous situation. Some organization was sponsoring a family photo session at the Pendleton County Courthouse. This event was an early form of a fundraiser where a group or family could have a picture taken for a modest price.

Cameras were not as common as the ones of today and were very old fashioned. The photographer would get under a cover, make adjustments and snap. A large bulb would flash, followed by a wisp of smoke.

My family was not going to get a photo that day, but I had accompanied a neighbor family.

The family that preceded my neighbor in getting their photo was composed of a father, mother, and two small boys. The older boy, Sam, was perhaps six, and his brother, Ted, was maybe two. Sam was pretty well behaved, but Ted was upset. The mother was nervous and had tried everything to calm the child for the photo.

Finally in desperation, she grabbed a blanket, threw it over her shoulder, pulled up her blouse, and commented, "Theodore, if you don't be good and get your picture taken, I am going to feed this to your brother!"

The younger brother stopped, ran to this mother, began nursing, settled right down and the family photo was completed.

Local Bedford House residents upset with decision to ban smoking on property

Dear Editor,

Recently, residents of the Bedford House in Falmouth were informed by letter from the property manager that they must stop smoking or move by July 1, 2014. There is to be no smoking inside of our own apartments or outside on the grounds. This includes no electronic cigarettes. We have checked many counties (over 100) and no others have this smoking ban. So how can the property manager decide to do this? It's his decision, not HUD.

We feel we should be able to smoke in our own apartments. Some of the residents have smoked 50 and 60 years and our leases don't say anything about it not being allowed.

We have over 600 signatures on a petition from people who don't agree with the property manager's decision. Even non-smokers feel that this is wrong and it should be our right, our choice.

These are supposed to be our golden years and this has the majority of the residents in the apartment buildings upset with the property manager.

We have several 80-year-old and above residents who smoke and have all of their lives. Some of the residents have been here for 15 years or more and have always been able to smoke inside their apartments or outside. Now they are going to take that right away? Can you see them having to walk out 20 feet off of the property onto Licking Street when they want to smoke? What about when it rains or snows? Getting older can make everyday activities harder for senior citizens. It's a shame that someone would want to take something like smoking and try to make it almost impossible for us.

We agree it would be a healthy choice not to smoke but the older residents feel as if the property manager is taking their freedom and rights away. No one should be able to make decisions for us. He should let the residents make their own choices and let all of us live our lives in peace!

Sincerely,
Lena Orr
Nancy Seedle

Manager replies to Bedford House resident's letter

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to opinion letters, submitted by tenants of Bedford House Apartments, in Falmouth, Kentucky, concerning a smoke free policy at the property. Bedford House provides housing for elderly and disabled tenants who receive federal assistance for their rent each month. As such, the property is bound by policies and regulations issued by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development or HUD. In 2010, HUD issued a notice (Housing Notice 2010-21) encouraging owners and managing agents to implement smoke-free housing policies. This notice was renewed two years later (Housing Notice 2010-22) and has been promoted every year since. The intent has been to reduce the exposure, of residents, to harmful components of second-hand smoke, and to mitigate fire risk.

Since the initial HUD notice, Bedford House's property management company has been successfully implementing smoke free policies at similar properties around the country, including in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Bedford House has asked tenants to refrain from smoking within their apartments and in the common areas of the apartment complex. For now, electronic cigarettes, for which the Food and Drug Administration has issued proposed regulations this week, will be treated the same as tobacco smoking products in the context of the Bedford House smoking policy.

Note that the overall policy, for Bedford House, does not differ from that of public buildings and businesses around the country, including those in the community of Falmouth. Bedford House tenants have not been required to quit smoking in order to maintain their residency. Residents will be allowed to smoke in designated smoking areas, on the complex, which will be set up for the convenience of tenants who need to use them. This policy will be in force as of July 1, 2014.

A letter of thanks to Kentucky Girl Scout volunteers

Dear Editor,

On April 22, 2014, Girl Scouts throughout the eastern half of Kentucky will honor their volunteers on Girl Scout Leader Appreciation Day during National Volunteer Week. Our dedicated leaders give of their time on a weekly basis to plan and lead fun, educational Girl Scout troop meetings and field trips. Whether it's teaching them about health and wellness, taking them on a caving expedition or out to the stables to learn to ride a horse, going to an international fair to experience different cultures, or creating a space rocket out of paper, a film canister and Alka-Seltzer, Girl Scout leaders have creative minds and caring hearts to share with the girls. They dedicate themselves year-round to helping girls grow into confident, resourceful young women.

I have seen first-hand the positive effect of volunteerism in Northern Kentucky and how Girl Scouts and their leaders make a difference in our community every day. For those of you who have a girl in Girl Scouting, take a moment to think about her leader. Think about how at every meeting the leader is there to help your girl experience new challenges and gain new skills for the future. Think about the amount of time the leader devotes to preparing for the meetings while balancing family, work, and other time constraints. Remember your Girl Scout leader with a note of thanks or a personal phone call or greeting. We would like to recognize and thank all of our leaders in Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Grant, Owen, Pendleton, Gallatin, Mason, Bracken, Robertson and Bracken counties.

You truly make a difference in the lives of girls. I encourage more people to follow in your footsteps by volunteering with the Girl Scouts. If you are interested in joining the ranks of these incredible leaders, please contact Rhonda Ritzi, Center Director at rritzi@gswhc.org or by calling 859-342-6263 ext. 15. We are Girl Scouts of Kentucky's Wilderness Road Council, where we build girls of courage, confidence and character who make the world a better place.

Sincerely,
Rhonda Ritzi, Membership
Center Director

W.E. Believe building a stronger community, one charity at a time

By Karen Hyden, Reporter

Denise Bobb, a Pendleton County entrepreneur, and a wonderful group of local women are working to build a stronger community, one charity act at a time. By doing so, they are making a difference in the lives of so many.

"I was working with Empower, Women on a Mission, a group in the Northern Kentucky area," said Denise. "And I thought, 'why not do this at home?'" She spoke with other women entrepreneurs and W.E. (Women Entrepreneurs) Believe was born.

A meeting was held in the spring of 2013 and their first quarter auction was held in October with the money going to help Asa Crozier. The auctions of November and December raised $350 to assist the Melvin Hart Toy Drive. In January the money raised went to the Trinity Food Bank and in March the auction gave to the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Bad weather canceled the February auction. The April auction raised money to help Danielle King Klaber.

The El Paso Mexican Restaurant, on U.S. 27 in Falmouth, graciously opens their doors the second Tuesday of each month to the ladies of W.E. Believe. At present there are 12 vendors in the group with a variety of items offered. For these women it's an opportunity to give back to their community while displaying their wares.

In May the quarter auction will be held for Bella O'Hara and in June the money will go to the FIREhouse Ministry.

The monthly quarter auctions are a great way to get out of the house, have some wholesome fun and give to others. Save up your quarters and come to El Paso on May 13 to help Bella. Paddle sales begin at 6:30 p.m. and bidding starts at 7 p.m. As always, there is great food and beverages available.

Lend support to these ladies who are giving of their time and products to help others in the community.

"Never deprive someone of hope; it might be all they have."

Beware of Kentucky Derby ticket scams

The "Run for the Roses" is right around the corner! And, the race is on to get those last-minute Kentucky Derby tickets!

BBB is warning those of you who want to attend the Kentucky Derby to beware of scam artists trying to fool you into buying fake Derby tickets!

"A ticket to the Kentucky Derby is a hot ticket item," says Charlie Mattingly, President/CEO, of the Better Business Bureau serving Louisville, Southern Indiana, and Western Kentucky. "If you're looking to buy a ticket to get into Churchill Downs on May 3, make sure you don't get taken for a ride."

To protect yourself against ticket fraud, Mattingly suggests, "The best way to avoid getting scammed is to deal directly with someone in person. If possible, have the seller provide proof that he/she paid for the seats and where they are in Churchill Downs." Mattingly also suggests, "To try to use a credit card because if something goes wrong, you can always contest the charge."

While there are legitimate posts, Derby ticket scams often pop up on Craigslist and online auction sites. Scam artists ask ticket seekers to send money through Western Union. But after you send off the cash, you never get the tickets...and your money is gone.

Here are some red flags for Craigslist scams:

- Buyer is not local
- Misspellings and grammar errors in the response
- Person offering that Craigslist guarantees a transaction
- Use of Western Union

for the transaction

• Seller offers use of an online escrow service

Eric Tedder for Family Court Judge
Serving Harrison, Nicholas, Pendleton and Robertson Counties

As a father of three, I understand and know well the value of a strong family unit and the importance of structure, guidance, patience, kindness, and love in developing well adjusted civic minded individuals. Unfortunately not all children are afforded these seemingly simple values. Some children are unfortunately neglected or otherwise thrown into situations beyond their control that stifle their ability to achieve physical, emotional, or psychological well being without even the most basic of human needs (food, clothing and shelter). Wherever and whenever a situation such as this may arise I will act quickly and firmly to ensure that all our children are given the tools they need to achieve their unalienable rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

BERLIN BAPTIST

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m., and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m., message by Bro. Dan Black.

This past Sunday was a wonderful time in the Lord at Berlin Baptist Church. Bro. Dan's message was taken from Hebrews 7:24-28 titled, "Jesus made atonement for all sin. No one can add to what Jesus did for us on the cross; no one can earn their way to heaven."

Spring Revival will be held at 7 p.m., May 23 and 24, and at 10 a.m., May 26, with evangelist Jerry Huffman. On Sunday the 24 a meal will be served following the morning service and a special afternoon hymn singing featuring Jimmy Kirk. All are welcome to attend.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

What a wonderful day, Easter Sunday. Our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ conquered death, hell and the grave. He is risen! Hallelujah, God was in the house today. Bro. Kevin's message was so anointed and powerful that we had two people come forward and receive Christ into their hearts and three that rededicated their lives. Praise the Lord!

Bro. Kevin's message was from Luke 22:42-44, John 19:30 and 1 Corinthians 1:18 titled, "There's Still Room at the Cross for You." Jesus died on the cross for us. We have been redeemed by the blood of the lamb. Jesus took up all our sins. Our sin debt was paid in full. We can receive salvation, deliverance and healing at the cross. When Jesus said "it is finished," this is what Easter is all about. The word Easter spells out salvation. Glory to God and God bless!

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

He arose, He arose, hallelujah Christ arose! We began our celebration of resurrection Sunday with a wonderful sunrise service during which time Bro. Harry Crozier delivered an inspiring message. We then enjoyed a delicious breakfast with our friends from First Baptist Church and Trinity Baptist Church.

Our Easter worship service began with the children of the church singing two beautiful songs. What a blessing they were! The Easter message, the resurrection of Jesus from the dead, is the central fact of Christian history. On it, the church is built. Without it, there would be no Christian church today. Christians can look very different from one another, and they can hold widely varying beliefs about politics, life-style, and even theology. But one central belief unites and inspires all true Christians; Jesus Christ rose from the dead!

Many of our senior adults are enjoying Jubilee Conference in Myrtle Beach this week. Please keep them in your prayers.

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Bro. Nathan's message for sunrise service was from Matthew 27:

"Behold, there was a great earthquake, for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven and rolled back the stone from the door. His countenance was like lightning, His raiment white as snow. The angel said unto Mary Magdalene and the other Mary that Jesus was not here, for He has risen!"

Bro. Rick's message was from John 20:19-31 titled, "Tougher Than Nails."

The disciples were hiding from the Jews, fearing for their lives because the tomb was empty. Jesus showed Himself to the disciples, so they were no longer afraid. Thomas was not with them when Jesus came. When Jesus came to Thomas and said, put your fingers in my hands and in my side so you will believe. Blessed are they that have not seen yet believe. Because Jesus lives, we can face tomorrow!

FALMOUTH WESLEYAN

We had a beautiful outside Son-rise service. The sun came up over the hills as we sang our last hymn "Redeemed!" The breakfast and fellowship afterward was wonderful!

The regular morning worship service was also blessed by the Lord's presence and the reality of the resurrection. The message was "Old Promise, New Life." The reality of the resurrection results in the newness of life. Romans 6:4 exclaims, "Therefore we are buried with Him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life." This newness includes hope-I Peter 1:3, victory-I Corinthians 15:54-57, and a great communion with God: "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all Amen." II Corinthians 13:14.

Worship with us Sunday evenings at 6 p.m.

FIRST BAPTIST

What a glorious Easter Sunday we had. Mike Whaley blessed us with special music. Bro. Harry's message, "He is Risen," was taken from Mark. It tells the story of Jesus' crucifixion, His burial and His resurrection from the dead. Jesus died on the cross for all of our sins. He arose from the dead to prove to us that if we live for Him, there will be life after death. If we believe in Jesus and spread His word, we can dwell in eternity with Him.

After service, every child was given an egg filled with goodies.

Pray for the lost, that they may find the Lord, the sick, that they be healed, those who have lost loved ones, that they find peace, our military, our community and our country.

"1 cross+3 nails=4 given"

HARVEST COMMUNITY

Many thanks to our youth for the beautiful sunrise Easter service with special music by Amberly Purdy and Abby Godman, word signing by Samantha Bergman and Megan Schack and an inspiring message by Brady Purdy. The youth then served a delicious breakfast of casseroles and biscuits and gravy.

"The Lord has today declared you to be His people, a treasured possession..."
~ Deuteronomy 26:18

Bro. Dale's Easter message was titled, "The Rejected Stone is Risen," based on Acts 4:8-12 and I Peter 2:4. Jesus' death for us on the cross sealed a covenant between God and people. Jesus offered Himself, the spotless lamb of God, as a sacrifice that would forgive sin once and for all.

Special Easter music was sung by Marsha Yelton and the men's quartet; Jack Caldwell, Charlie Purdy, Donnie Spencer and Damien Kindle. It was a beautiful day of blessings!

Prayer concerns: Lee Bobb, Mark Fields, Anthony Harrison, Emma McDonald, Jessie Vater, Michelle Faulkner and the family of Ruth Urban.

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

Death always follows life, and in the Gospel, life always follows death. And too many of us put resurrection in the future, near or distant. And when we do that, we misunderstand what it means. We misunderstood it's power. After all, the Bible tells us that, in Christ, "the Word became flesh and dwelt among us." Yet Jesus says, "I am the resurrection and the life." I am here and now - not was, or will be - I am the resurrection and the life. And He asks, "Do you believe this?" Christianity is not for Pollyannas who think the answer to every problem is to put on a happy face and think about all the good times coming up in heaven. Christianity is for people who know the hard truth about death and pain. And we know that Christ's Gospel can and should make a difference now, make things possible now, transforming people and relationships now.

Come visit us at Morgan: Sunday school 10 a.m., worship 11 a.m., and Wednesday service 6 p.m.

MT. MORIAH

April 20 was a glorious Easter at Mt. Moriah. The day was beautiful and we felt the wonder and glory of Jesus' resurrection.

On May 3 a group from the church will go to Versailles to help Daniel Breeden do work at the children's Methodist home.

Our prayer list includes Tracy Meyer, the Middle East, Marlena Brown, Elwood Moore, Kay Hammack, Chipper McGee, "Little Ellie," and Elston Bobb. The Oldendick twins are now eating without their feeding tubes and doing well. We extend sympathy to the family of Billy Pugh.

Congratulations to Alvin Adams on his 92nd birthday!

The greatest "praise" ever known...He is risen!

NEW HOPE

May 1 is National Day of Prayer. This is a day that our country is encouraged to pray everyday, it is good for the nation to lift up one voice to God in prayer. What should we pray about?

We should acknowledge our national sins and ask for forgiveness. We should pray about international events, such as what is happening in Ukraine, that could affect our country. We should pray about our national problems, such as our financial issues, or local issues, such as drugs. We should pray for our leaders who have to make important decisions. We should pray that God would protect our military, police, firefighters and others who are in danger everyday. We should pray for wisdom as we will soon vote for new leaders. These and other requests should be our focus during our prayers.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning worship is at 11 a.m., and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m. Bible study is on Wednesdays at 7 p.m.

Upcoming opportunities: At 5:30 p.m., May 4 there will be a deacons meeting, Spring Revival will be May 16-18.

Hebrews 4:16, "Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need."

Please remember in prayer Kay Thomas, Janet Bishop, Allen Blevins, Mark Fields, Dolly MacDonald, Barb Zachary, Steve Livers, Christopher Cummins and the Rogers family. Also pray for our country and its leaders.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

Isn't it great to know that He's alive! The Easter season reminds us that we do serve a risen Savior. It was so wonderful to see so many in church this day to hear the word proclaimed in word and in song.

Remember Senior Saints Day at Camp Northward, May 8.

Church Board meeting at 7 p.m., May 8.

Prayer concerns include Juanita King, Pam Bruin, Donna King, Melvin Ramsey, Paul Bex, Daryl Roberts, Jim McCann, Joyce Mains, Michelle Faulkner, Don Bass, Tonya Bromley, James and Linda Young, cancer concerns, armed forces, shut-ins and our leaders. Our sympathy to loved ones of Harold Miles, Esther Moreland and Donald Chambers.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Easter Sunday started with sunrise service at 7 a.m., followed by breakfast and Easter egg hunt for the children.

After morning service the Lords supper was observed. "This Do In Remembrance Of Me." Remember the great sacrifice He made for you and me. Glory to His name. Bro. Rick's message was on a phrase Jesus used for Himself. "Son of Man" is used in the four gospels 83 times. It meant something in His mind and the mind of those who hear it.

Matthew 25:31-33. "When the Son of Man comes in His glory, and all the holy angels with Him, then He will sit on the throne of His glory. All the nations will be gathered before Him, and He will separate them one from another, as a shepherd divides his sheep from the goats. And He will set the sheep on His right hand, but the goats on the left."

Sunday evening Bible study will be from various books of the Bible on Christian belief.

TRINITY

Praise God, He lives! He lives because of His great love for us. Why can't others see their need from Christ in their lives?

This past Easter Sunday was truly a blessing for all who attended sunrise service and morning worship. At Trinity, we were honored with several guests who participated in our worship through a powerful message in song. Thank you to those who visited and shared their talents. The message is the Lord lives and He is still the great I Am!

There are several opportunities to be involved at Trinity. Mark your calendars: April 24 food share, April 25 family game night, April 26 adult dinner outing/Augusta and May 18 Sunday school breakfast. Also don't forget at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday evening prayer meetings.

Our pantry is in need of a few donations. Can you help us out with an item or two? We are looking for mustard, ketchup, mayonnaise, salt and pepper.

TURNER RIDGE

Hopefully everyone enjoyed Easter Sunday in church, if not please find a church near you to visit and get active with, you are missing a blessing if you don't.

At Turner Ridge we gathered at 7 a.m., for sunrise service, we read scripture and enjoyed the Hand Bell Choir! During our morning worship at 11 a.m., Bro. Dale explained to the children with items from the eggs that Judas betrayed Jesus, Jesus was beat with a whip, and nailed to the cross, had to wear a crown of thorns on his head and in the end the stone was rolled away and Jesus lives!

Brady Koettel read scripture I Corinthians 15:19-20 followed by special music from Robin Koettel "Give Them All To Jesus." Bro. Dale's message titled, "The Resurrection: It Changes Everything" coming from the books of Matthew, Luke, Corinthians and Romans; the message shared how a brutal murder changed to an atoning sacrifice for you and me. Please read your Bible, look up these books and read for yourself what Jesus did for us, to ensure us everlasting life.

You are always welcome at our church to find out more about the scripture and what it means to our lives.

PCHS Boys Tennis wins twice

With Tennis Region Tournament starting on Friday, the Boys Tennis team is peaking at the right time as they won twice with wins over Mason County and Bourbon County.

Against Bourbon County, they won 3-2 in a close match. Michael Antrobus, #1 seed, shutout his foe 8-0 to set a good tone for the Cats. Hunter Wood won his #3 match 8-4 to give PC a 2-1 lead after singles competition.

Senior duo Max DeWald and Eli Stahl won their match 8-6 to give Pendleton the victory. Mikey DeWald and Christian Rick won their exhibition doubles match.

Against Mason County, the Cats fell behind in singles action 1-2 with Trey Roseberry picking up the only point winning 8-2. But Garrett Marshall playing #1 doubles won 8-3 and Max DeWald and Eli Stahl won 8-4 to give PC the 3-2 victory.

The Ladycats didn't have as much success. Against Mason County, only one singles match, Nancy Shoemaker, and one doubles match, Heather Rick and Hannah Miller, was played and they lost both.

The script was similar versus Bourbon County as the Ladycats lost all five matches. Singles action saw Hannah Miller and Lilly Wang join Shoemaker. Senior combo Ronica Hutchison and Kendra Hughes joined the Rick/Miller combination in doubles action.

PCHS Track runs at Harrison County

Pendleton County competed in a strong field at the Harrison County Invitational and had some good individual performances.

Walker Lea competed in the distance runs and finished 5th in the 3200 Meter Run which is eight laps around the track. He also picked up the pole and vaulted to a height of 9 feet that placed him 6th.

Alex Blackaby was the second PC athlete to finish high in two events. Competing in the field events of shot put and discus, she threw the shot put 25 feet 7 he helped bring a pair of district titles to Pendleton County, and while at Belmont he played for three NCAA tournament teams under Bruins head coach Rick Byrd. He is also a member of the 10th Region Hall of Fame, and his 1,372 points ranks seventh all-time in Wildcat history.

Upon graduating college in 2009, he worked as a graduate assistant at ECU under coach Jeff Neubauer. Belcher also coached girls JV basketball at Ravenwood High School in Tennessee, and also AAU basketball. Since returning to PCHS, he has also served as Ladycat Golf coach for the past two seasons.

"We are very excited for one of our own to take over leadership of our Wildcat basketball program," said PCHS Athletic Director Keith Smith. "The PC community is pumped to have Keaton on the sideline as varsity coach and leading our program from recreation through middle school to the varsity level. We expect Keaton to have a long and successful career at PCHS and have a positive effect on many young men's lives through the game of basketball."

entertain and bring a smile to the face of those who read them.

"'Back Yonder' is not fancy," says Marvin in the introduction of his book. "It is like a hand-sewn quilt. It has taken much time and effort. What you see is what you get. The tales are original and have some truth, even though I have added some exaggeration and fiction. Ben Franklin said no one would ever read history unless fiction was added."

There are sure to be plenty of stories that will amuse and charm readers of all ages. Marvin's down-to-earth style of writing will make you feel like you're right there with him watching the events of his life unfold. This is one book that will not disappoint anyone who opens its pages. Bonus tidbits, photos, illustrations and other additional informational items are available with the stories. These never before seen extras add more flavor and enjoyment to this one-of-a-kind book of Marvin's life tales.

You can pick up your copy of "Back Yonder" the day of the event for the cost of $19.99. For those of you who don't know Marvin, you'll get the chance to meet and talk with this unforgettable Pendleton County storyteller. And if you're really lucky he just might break out his trusty harmonica and play you a little tune revealing yet another one of his many unique talents.

For more information, about Marvin's book signing contact the Pendleton County Public Library at 859-654-8535. If you can't make it the day of the book signing but would still like to purchase a copy of "Back Yonder" please call 859-654-6065 for details.

April 29, 1986: Roger Clemens becomes the first pitcher in Major League Baseball to strike out 20 batters in a nine-inning game.

Wildcats take lead for #2 seed

Spring weather makes spring sports seasons unbalanced and hard to find a rhythm. Last week, the Wildcats found their schedule packed with five games in six days that was in the midst of a seven games in nine day stretch.

This week with the weather forecast and five games scheduled, they hope to be able to play at some point.

A key game in the week is Thursday's matchup in Carlisle with Nicholas County. Harrison County will be the #1 seed in the 38th District Tournament scheduled to start on Monday, May 19 at Iler Field behind Pendleton County High School.

The #2 seed and home team in the first round matchup Pendleton County has the upper hand with their 9-7 victory over Nicholas County at home on Thursday. A win in the Nicholas County game on Thursday in Carlisle would clinch the #2 seed and home team for the district matchup. A win by Nicholas County and tiebreakers come into play as each team would hold a victory over the other.

Nicholas County jumped out to the 3-0 lead but the Cats battled back to take a 7-3 lead behind Josh Brown's home run to left center.

After Nicholas County

ried it at 7, Josh powered the Cats to the victory with a towering shot to the same spot for a two-run homer that gave the Cats the 9-7 victory.

"Our bats in the Nicholas County game were explosive," coach Aaron Biddle excitedly proclaimed. "Josh Brown hit two home runs that were absolute blasts."

Trevor Turner picked up the victory in relief with Jonah Smith getting the save.

In other action, the Cats beat Augusta 11-0 with Robbie Gaskins giving up a single on the first pitch of the game. It would turn out to be the only hit of the game Augusta would manage in the 5-inning, 1-hitter.

PC dropped games to Harrison County, 8-3, Simon Kenton 10-9, and Bellevue 6-4 to bring their season record to an even 10-10.

Ladycats drop three despite improved hitting

By Sam McClanahan, Reporter

The Ladycats battled hard last week in three games but came away winless despite better output by its offense.

After falling 15-0 to Harrison County last Monday, the team returned home the following night to host Williamstown.

The Lady Demons got two second innings run off Ladycat starter, Sarah Turner, but the home team responded with a big four-run outburst to take the lead. Junior third baseman Haley Carr delivered an RBI single to start the rally, and after PC tied the game on a wild pitch, Turner came up big with a two-run single to put the Cats ahead 4-2.

Williamstown promptly answered in the top of the third by tying the contest and went ahead in the top of the fifth with an inside-the-park home run. Ladycat first baseman Kendall Carr knotted the game in the bottom of the fifth with an RBI single.

In the top of the sixth, Turner quickly retired the first two batters she faced, however, the Lady Demons would go on to score twice and take the lead for good and pull out a 7-5 win.

The week ended with a road game at Robertson

County. Both teams would account for a combined 32 runs as the Lady Devils came out on top in a 20-12 slugfest. Both run totals would be season-highs for each club.

Last night, the Ladycats traveled to face Mason County. Results will be found in next week's issue. On Saturday, the team will host the "Swing for the Cure Classic," a day-long event that will include a tripleheader beginning at 10 a.m. with a matchup against Calvary Christian. Games are also scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m., respectively. Opponents are yet to be determined.

THE NATE JONES REPORT

He is not responding favorably to any medical treatments, or procedures. He is to undergo further evaluations this week.

Controlling flies on cattle

Warmer weather brings more pest problems. Horn flies and face flies are key pests of cattle in Kentucky. Both species breed in fresh pasture manure piles but present very different threats and management problems. Fortunately, there are a variety of fly control options.

Horn flies are blood feeders. They remain on animals most of the time, taking 20 to 30 small blood meals per day. More than 100 flies along the sides and backs of each animal every day during the fly season can mean 12 to 15 pounds lower weaning weights for spring calves and poor gains for older animals. The close association between the horn fly and the animal, however, does make many control methods quite effective.

On the other hand, face flies spend about 90 percent of their time resting off of animals and visit them only to feed on liquids around the eyes and face. This makes some fly control methods more effective than others because face flies visit hard-to-treat areas for very short time periods.

One control option is insecticide-impregnated cattle ear tags which release small amounts of an insecticide distributed over the animal during grooming or rubbing. In general, ear tags provide excellent, long-term control of horn flies and some brands also reduce face fly numbers. Another advantage is that animals only have to be handled once.

Read the label before you purchase and use insecticide ear tags. All tags are labeled for beef cattle while only those with certain active ingredients are approved for use on lactating dairy cattle.

For fly control, it is best to tag animals after horn fly numbers reach 50 or more per side. This reduces the chances of developing resistance to the active ingredients that are being used. Normally, tags provide 12 to 15 weeks of fly control. Tagging too early in the season can mean the tags are not providing control in the fall that will help to control the overwintering population.

Another method of control is pour-on products. These are ready-to-use formulations that are applied to animals in measured doses based upon body weight. Horn flies are killed as they land on treated areas of the animal and pick up the insecticide through their body.

Typically, the pour-ons provide about four weeks of fly reduction so they must be reapplied at intervals or used in combination with other methods. The length of control will vary with weather and other factors so treat again when fly numbers build back up to about 100 per side but no sooner than the label instructions allow.

Many cattle producers like to use self-application devices, such as dust bags, back rubbers, or automatic sprayers for pasture fly control. They can be purchased ready-made or assembled from easily found materials. These devices can do a very effective job of horn fly control and may provide satisfactory to excellent face fly control. All require regular inspection and service to be sure that they are working and dispensing properly and may not be as mobile as other fly control systems.

Location is important for these fly control methods. They must be put where animals can use them regularly. The number needed will vary with herd size, pasture area and other factors. The ultimate goal is to get each animal treated regularly.

Caring for show animals

Livestock shows are some of the most popular and widely recognized 4-H events. 4-H'ers who participate in livestock shows have been caring for their animals for many months now. With the first county fairs just a few weeks away, they should continue to keep their animals as healthy and comfortable as possible. This can be tricky sometimes with the higher temperatures and humidity that come with the summer show season. Animal comfort tends to decline as the heat and humidity rise.

Regardless of whether they're entered in livestock judging competitions, all animals need access to fresh, clean water. Water is an important component of overall animal health but is one some of us forget about when we talk about animal nutrition as the focus tends to be on feed. While it's important to give these animals good, quality feed, an adequate source of drinking water helps to keep animals' internal body temperatures within normal limits. This is crucial as the temperatures and humidity levels begin to rise. The water also needs to be clean. A good rule of thumb is, if you wouldn't want to drink water, neither do your animals.

4-H'ers should also make sure their animals have access to cool, clean shelters with adequate ventilation. Some 4-H'ers, especially those showing steers or beef cattle, may consider keeping their show animals cooler by using fans and misters in their bedding areas. Providing clean, fresh bedding for show animals adds to animal comfort and helps keep them clean.

For more information on 4-H livestock shows, contact the 4-H youth development agent at the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Don't break the bank this summer

With the days finally getting warmer, many of us are looking forward to summertime and making plans for all of the activities we want to do and events we want to attend. Summer can be a lot of fun, but many summertime adventures can also be expensive. Preparing now for summertime expenses can help soften the blow to your wallet.

Many people do not include summertime expenses, such as vacations, concerts, summer camps, trips to the pool and golf outings, in their monthly budget. Add in the cost of gas, and you can easily overspend. Thinking about and listing the activities and events you want to attend with your family this summer can help you start thinking of ways to pay for them.

When you have a list, look at your monthly budget and current expenses for ways you could save a little now for summertime activities. Making your coffee at home or bringing your lunch to work could add up to big savings over time. You may also consider borrowing books and movies from the library as opposed to purchasing them.

If you plan to be outdoors a lot this summer, you may want to consider canceling your cable for the summer. You may find you don't really miss it. Many shows are in reruns during this time anyway.

If some of your summer plans don't seem possible after reviewing your budget, you can consider free alternatives in your area. Many towns have free festivals or outdoor events that can provide fun and family bonding time. You may also want to consider doing activities closer to home or having a "staycation" where you tour your own area. This will not only save you on lodging and transportation costs, but many points of interest in your city may offer discounted rates to locals or have free admission times.

PC Conservation District promotes Soil and Water Stewardship Week

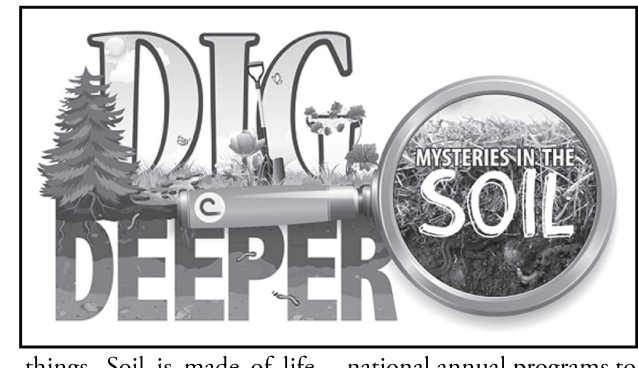

"Whereas fertile soil and clean water provide us with our daily sustenance, and whereas effective conservation practices have helped provide us rich standard of living, and whereas our security depends upon healthy soil and clean water, and whereas stewardship calls for each person to help conserve these precious resources, therefore I do hereby proclaim April 27 to May 4, 2014, Soil and Water Stewardship Week." Henry Bertram, Judge Executive.

As part of Pendleton County for 74 years the Conservation District wants to remind you that each of us has a connection to natural resources. The National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) is celebrating the 59th year of Stewardship Week, April 27 through May 4, 2014. The theme of the 2014 Stewardship Week is, "Dig Deeper: Mysteries in the Soil."

Will C. Browning, chairperson of the Pendleton County Conservation District says that the district was formed to assist people and our mission statement says it all! "A progressive county promoting a quality lifestyle in harmony with the environment." "Soil is an essential natural resource that all of us depend on each and every day," says NACD president Earl Garber. The Dust Bowl of the 1930s showed our nation the importance of conservation practices. Farmers and ranchers who have experienced recent droughts know that conservation practices are critical in helping their soil endure, even in the most challenging weather events. The Pendleton County Conservation District is working with local landowners to assist in a variety of projects and outreach to improve soil health both now and in the long term.

Mr. Browning says that soil is an amazing substance. A complex mix of minerals, air and water, soil also teems with countless micro-organisms and the decaying remains of once living things. Soil is made of life and soil makes life. Lets stop and think: to the farmer, soil is where crops grow; to the engineer, soil is a foundation upon which to build; to the ecologist, soil supports communities of living things; to the archaeologist, soil holds clues to past cultures; to the city dweller, soil nurtures grass and gardens; to the soil scientist, soil is all of these things. Soil has been called "the skin of the earth" because it is the thick outermost layer of the Earth's crust; like our own skin, we can't live without soil!

The Pendleton County Conservation District is a member of NACD which oversees the Stewardship Week program. Stewardship Week is one of the largest national annual programs to promote conservation. NACD represents the nation's three thousand conservation districts, which were established to encourage resource conservation across the country.

The local conservation district is located in the USDA Service Center, 814 U.S. 27 South, Falmouth. The Pendleton County Conservation District Board of Supervisors are: Will Browning, Gregory Wolfe, Chris Robles, E.A. Monroe III, Robert P. McClanahan, Robert M. Jones, Larry Miller and district administrative secretary, Kay Williams.

All services and programs are offered on a non-discriminatory basis.

Butterscotch zucchini brownies by the Amish Cook

It is turning out to be a nice, sunny day. The temperature is almost 40. We awoke one morning this week with the ground all covered with snow. It stayed cold for a few days with the temperature going down to 22 one night.

My husband Joe and the boys planted 30-40 pounds of potatoes on Saturday. Joe tilled all the gardens but I haven't had a chance to plant anything. I would like to plant peas, radishes, lettuce, and onions. At least a little of each so we have some ready earlier. That depends on the weather, I guess.

Sister Emma and her daughters came yesterday to assist daughter Verena and I with cleaning for our upcoming church services. Walls and ceilings were washed off, furniture cleaned, windows cleaned, curtains washed, etc. I thought we really accomplished a lot. Last week the girls and I cleaned the master bedroom and bath. Everything seems to be getting done on schedule.

Saturday the children raked most of the yard. It still needed to be raked in some areas. It looks like dandelion greens are popping through. I hope to go look for some today. The children want to color eggs for Easter so dandelion salad will be a good way to use up some of those colored eggs.

The school planned a half day school for tomorrow (Good Friday). The Amish children won't go as Good Friday is an Amish holiday in this community. The half day is to make up one of the missed days due to the bad weather this winter. Our five school-age children went back to school Monday after a week home from spring break.

Daughter Susan's hands seem to be healing gradually. She was moved to another job which she greatly appreciated. She is feeling better every day and hopefully it will all be healed soon.

The farmers down the road are planting their fields. It looks like they might be planting potatoes. Timothy's (Elizabeth's friend) third mare delivered a foal on Sunday night. He now has four foals at his place as Susan's pony Roxie and her foal are there too. We want to go see the four new foals sometime. They're always so frisky and full of life.

We are in the process of getting a permit accepted to build on a ramp to the house. Loretta will be so glad for it. I would like to thank all you readers for you're the support you have given. It is appreciated very much.

Joe would also like to get some sidewalks made to the house before church services are held here. It will help a lot to keep dirt from getting dragged in.

My rhubarb and horseradish's are peeping through. The tulips are looking hearty too. I'm watching to see when the asparagus pops also. I love spring!

After a long winter it

BUTTERSCOTCH ZUCCHINI BROWNIES

will be even more special. God has created a wonderful world. How often do we take all our needs for granted? Do we appreciate our blessings enough? I read a saying recently that said "what if God only gave you tomorrow for what you prayed for today." How true to life, people tend to get so busy they truly miss the purpose we were put on this earth to begin with. I hope everyone had a very blessed Easter!
